1. What Online Tutoring Is (and Is Not)

You teach a subject one-to-one or in small groups over video: school subjects (Math, English, Sciences), exam prep (WAEC, JAMB, IELTS), languages, or skills. Students book sessions; you deliver structured lessons and track progress.

It is not passive income. Preparation, punctuality, and clear explanation matter. Fake certificates or claiming expertise you do not have destroys trust and accounts.

2. Realistic Earnings 2026 — Nigeria, Africa, Global

Stage	Illustrative	Notes
Local part-time	NGN 40k-150k / mo	Few weekly students
Local active	NGN 150k-350k+	Exam season boosts
USD beginner (Preply etc.)	$100-$500 / mo	Building reviews
USD established	$500-$2,000+	Regular students + higher rate

International hourly rates often start around $5-$15 for new tutors and rise with reviews. Platform commissions reduce take-home — price accordingly. Local hourly rates commonly NGN 2,000-6,000+ depending on level and city.

3. Exact Nigeria Setup Order

1. Stable internet plan + backup (data + inverter/UPS where possible).
2. Laptop/phone with camera, headset, quiet well-lit space.
3. Payoneer for international platforms.
4. Choose primary subject (and one backup).
5. Create Preply and/or local platform profile + intro video.
6. Simple lesson outline templates and progress notes.

4. Payment Rails

International platforms (Preply, italki, Cambly-style) commonly pay via Payoneer. Local platforms and private students: bank transfer, OPay/PalmPay. Always confirm current payout methods on each platform before investing profile time.

5. Subjects That Convert

Local demand: Mathematics, English, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, WAEC/JAMB prep. Global demand: English conversation, Business English, IELTS/TOEFL, school math, coding basics. Teach what you can explain clearly under pressure — not every subject on your certificate.

6. Platforms Walkthrough

1. Preply

Set your own rate. Strong for English and many subjects. Commission declines with hours taught. Intro video critical.

2. italki

Language focus; community vs professional tutor tracks. Lower commission than some rivals.

3. Cambly (where available)

Conversation-style English; easier entry for some tutors; check current country eligibility.

4. Local NG platforms (Tutera, PrepClass, Tutor.ng style)

Naira payouts; academic and exam focus; verify current signup rules.

5. Superprof

Marketplace model; set rates; mix of local and international leads.

6. Fiverr

Packaged lesson gigs for international buyers; reviews matter.

7. Direct / WhatsApp

Private students from referrals and local marketing; highest margin, more admin.

8. Zoom + Google Classroom independent

For retained private groups after you have demand.

7. Profile, Intro Video and First Students

Strong intro video: clear speech, good light, subject promise, who you help. Start rates competitively to collect reviews, then raise. Respond fast to trial requests. First 10-20 positive reviews change booking volume more than any certificate alone.

8. Lesson Structure and Retention

Open with goal check, teach one clear concept, practice, assign short homework, end with next-step summary. Retention comes from visible progress and reliability — not long lectures. Keep a simple student progress log.

9. Africa Expansion Notes

Exam systems differ by country; local curriculum knowledge helps regional students. Payment rails vary (mobile money). English tutoring demand is continental and global.

10. Global / USD Reality

International students book across time zones. Buffer power cuts with inverter or schedule around reliable hours. TEFL/TESOL can help English profiles but is not always mandatory — check each platform.

11. Tools, Power and Internet Reality

Minimum: stable connection, camera, mic, quiet background. Nigeria power reality means plan lessons around known supply windows or invest in backup early once revenue starts. Test video quality before every first lesson with a new student.

12. Daily Operating System

Morning: confirm day's lessons and materials. Between lessons: quick notes and messages. Weekly: review cancellations, raise rates if fully booked, update availability. Protect prep time so lessons stay high quality.

13. Scams and Hard Safety Rules

- Never pay to get listed as a tutor on a legitimate platform.
- Use platform payments for new international students.
- No OTP/BVN sharing with strangers.
- Do not teach subjects you cannot actually teach.
- Keep professional boundaries with minors; follow platform safeguarding rules.

14. 30 / 60 / 90-Day Path

Days 1-7: Payoneer + equipment check + subject choice + first platform profile.

Days 8-30: Intro video live; competitive rate; first paid lessons and reviews.

Days 31-60: Raise rate; add second platform or local students; systematise lesson plans.

Days 61-90: Core regular students; consider exam-season packages or group classes.

15. Checklists and Field Workbooks

- Internet + backup power plan
- Payoneer verified
- Subject + level defined
- Intro video recorded
- Platform profile complete
- Lesson template ready

Closing Notes — Building a Durable Tutoring Practice

Online tutoring rewards clarity, punctuality, and visible student progress. Nigeria offers both local exam-driven demand and access to global English and subject marketplaces that pay in dollars via Payoneer.

Start with one platform and one subject. Collect reviews before raising rates. Treat power and internet as operational risks — schedule and backup accordingly.

Never invent qualifications. Protect minors according to platform rules. Use this playbook as a field manual, not a promise of income.
